

2013 AND BEYOND
Continuing the Shift into Oneness
June 2013 Event
Preview Call #2 of 2

June 5, 2013

With

Franco DeNicola and
Antonia Hagens, Masterpiece Life

Antonia (“A”)

Franco (“F”)

A This is a preview call for the event we are hosting on June 8 and 9, 2013, called “2013 and Beyond, Continuing the Shift into Oneness.” This call is the second of two calls we are having so that people can get a sense of what the event will be like.

A Would you like to clarify anything about the event, Franco?

F With respect to the upcoming event this month, people can ask questions not only if they are attending live but also if they are attending via the internet. And this will happen in two ways: First, people can write down their questions and ask them. But also people can write down their questions and, because their intention is that the question be addressed as part of the material in the event, it will, in fact, be addressed in the presentation.

F And for the people who will be coming in and out of the event because of their personal schedules...even though they are not going to be active right at the moment when the information is being shared or the processes are being done, the fact that their intention is to be part of it they are then automatically linked to it. So even if they are sleeping, they are directly connected to the event, and they will be facilitating while that is happening.

F And this is true not just for this event, but with all our events.

A Yes. And already today Franco and I have been working at the soul level with all of those who are registered for the event. And, as Franco says, whether or not you are able to be physically present, or you are attending via the telephone, via webcast, or listening to the recording after the event has already happened, we are working with you consistently.

F Exactly. So, in case anyone has any concerns about, “Am I going to be able to have the same effect?” or “Am I really going to be part of it in the same way?” or “Do I need to stay up all night so I don’t miss anything?” and so on...just remember, if you have registered and have the intention to be part of it, you are a part of it, no matter what.

F And then, by listening to the replay you are now going to install it.

F The connection will be soul to soul.

F The listening to it and actually being conscious of it helps with the sub-conscious and the conscious mind. And it also alters the ego mind while we are doing it. But at the soul level, they are connected. Then listening to the recording brings into play the other elements.

A Yes. And if Franco does any drawing on the flip chart, we will be taking photos of those drawings and will upload them to the webcast/recording page so that it is very easy for you to follow along.

A And the other point is to not bother taking any notes and be writing while listening to the presentation. Just listen and allow yourself to be open to information and to the frequency coming through to you. Because the mind will say, “Well I have to see it or it doesn’t make sense.” That’s just the ego mind kicking in. Just let the information and the frequency be transmitted to you naturally. Because that really is why you’re there.

F Yes, absolutely.

F And this has all been co-created here in the sense that every soul on the planet, ready or not in the sense of “being present,” has desired for this to take form. And the souls who are stepping up, both the ones who are going to be there live as well as the ones who are connecting via the internet and by phone are the ones who have actually said, “Not only do I desire this to take form, but I also want to take a conscious, active role in it.”

F Because as this is going through, all those people who are active in it are going through a personal transformation.

F But the beauty of this event is that it is on a whole new level of affecting the whole planet.

F Because, right now, things are totally different than they used to be in the sense that as we make changes within ourselves, we are automatically uploading into the collective consciousness and making changes in that regard in our environment and to people with whom we are interacting.

F And, right now, the Oneness encodement has been re-activated in such a powerful way that any changes we incur, anything that we are doing as a collective, is automatically being streamed to every single soul on the planet. It is being streamed to the grid-work of the planet. So that it actually creates an adjustment, an alteration in every single soul.

F It may not reflect directly in a very powerful, obvious way. However, each and every soul that does this process at this particular event (because of all that we are going to be doing)...the results are not isolated to only the individuals participating, but rather it will have a global effect.

F And we are also going to be using a lot of new Source Codes and using a lot of Universal Codes that have been experienced and learned from on different planets and so forth, and that we, as souls, and also the planet itself are ready for and will start to adopt it.

F Of course, it's not going to be identical, because we have a different encodement in how we operate (from that of other planets), however, there's a lot that will be utilized as part of our new experience.

F Because we, at this time, are really, really, really transforming things in such a manner that it has never, ever been experienced before!

A Yes, there is so much going on that will be felt. And as we were talking about today, today is one of those days when there is another frequency shift coming in to the planet. And there will be another one on the 21st of June. And that will lead up into August 8th (when there will be the frequency shift to anchor in 4th Dimensional consciousness).

A And that is why we are doing this event.

F You know, the thing is too, there has been so much concern about, "Are we going to make it or not going to make it?" and all that stuff. The thing is, we are not in that situation. It's not a matter of whether or not we are going to "make it."

F We are already on the way to "making it!"

F It is the process that's taking place right now. There is so much coming together by so many individual souls.

F Even the souls who are still playing in 3-D to some degree are now picking up and saying, "Yes! Let's transform this! Let's transform our whole planet. Let's transform our human experience. Let's bring this together." Because they are feeling it.

F There is so much that is happening right now to really make this flow. So it's not a question of whether or not we are going to make it. Or that the planet is going to shift (and we get left behind).

F Yes, the planet has already shifted to the 4th Dimension and it's already gearing up for the 5th.

F But humanity, as much as there's only a small portion who have shifted into 4th, we are creating the groundwork, we are doing so much to allow all the rest of the alignments to come into place.

F And it will.

F It's not something that can be stopped!

F The choice at this particular point in time is do we participate or not participate? And that's the choice that we make as an individual.

F But every soul on the planet wants to participate, no matter what. No matter how much it can participate, it will participate.

F Even if it chooses to leave the planet, it's still participating (laughs) because it says, "OK, I'm not going to be able to make this transition in a way which will support the Whole..."

F Because the choices now...the thing is, even the soul's operating system has changed in the fashion where it has really been brought up to a new level.

F When it looks at a "choice" as to whether to stay on the planet or to leave the planet, it doesn't individualize itself anymore. It doesn't look at it as, "Am I going to be able to do it or not?" It's going to look at it as, "What can I do for myself and others?" There's that component in there, but right now it says, "OK, what is the best for every other facet of myself out there? This is a playground that's going through an upgrade and in order to facilitate all other aspects of myself, can I participate, can I be a part of this? Or do I find that my participation may involve departing the planet and creating a ripple effect of some sort? Or unplugging that energy and frequency that only I am capable of streaming at this time and allow the ratio to shift on the planet so that the progress moves forward more quickly?"

F So the soul really has a whole different perspective on how it makes its decision. And it's really about, "Do I participate or not participate?" more than anything else. Because the rest will come about.

F So it's not that we are still on the verge of still wondering, "Are we going to make it or not?" That's already been decided and agreed upon.

F We are going to move forward...regardless.

F And I've heard some people say that, "Only certain parts will move..." and whatever else.

F All of it is moving.

F Everything is benefitting.

F No matter what.

F Any soul that is on this planet will benefit...one way or another...with whatever's going on.

F And if it chooses that it cannot, then it already gained so much... But not only did it gain so much, whatever role they were playing...even if they were playing with something that was dense, it has facilitated other souls that it interacted with. So, again, it still participated, it still assisted other aspects of itself, allowing the playground to upgrade...so that when it chooses to come back, the playground is already set. So, in that way, not only is it helping itself, but it is also assisting it's brother/sister souls...which it sees as part of itself, as One with itself.

F Especially now with the last stimulation, the last activation (energy frequency input) that occurred which was on December 21, 2012...and we've had other updates on that aspect of it...it now really, really sees the Oneness in each other. So it no longer says, "Well, I'm going down this path just for myself." Instead, it says, "I'm going down this path for all aspects of myself."

F It's kind of like your body has one cell which says, "OK, I'm going to move forward," and doesn't have any regard for the rest of the physicality which is comprised of trillions and trillions of "other" cells. Instead, it basically says, "How can I facilitate with all the other cells so that we can move this whole thing, this whole projection forward?"

F So it now works quite different in that regard.

A Yes, that's a great analogy because we've been getting a lot of e-mails with people saying, "Well, somebody is saying this and somebody else is saying that," or "That guy is moving too fast and we're not," or "This is happening or that is happening," or "We're not going to make it!", and so on.

A And what I tell everybody is, "We are One." So that pertains to whether or not you want to call that "we" being brother/sister souls from other planets, whether you want to call it Gaia or the planet, trees, animal kingdom...we really are all One.

A And as we move further along in the 4th Dimension and then closer to the 5th Dimension, the feeling of that comes together more.

A For example, I was just hearing about what's been happening in Turkey. And we have a very dear friend who is in Turkey. So before a lot of the things hit the mainstream, we were getting communication from him about what was happening there. And it was very interesting. I don't follow mainstream media so I don't have any idea what's being said there. What I get comes from someone who's actually there. And as soon as our friend heard about what was happening, he dropped everything and flew to their support. And I've seen some blog posts from others who are also there who are saying that same thing: That when they heard that peaceful demonstrators were being attacked, people just put on their shoes and ran out into the street...and they didn't even know why.

A They were aware that they were possibly endangering their own lives. But the point was that they felt "One." And they went out to support.

A And I don't know what the media is saying about the situation, but there's been no looting...there's been nothing.

A There's only been people coming together in unity and saying, "We've had enough!"

A And right now the issue in Turkey is way past (inaudible). But the comments from people I know there is the same thing: they just felt a Oneness, a solidarity, and a need to support. And that's it! And they just acted on that.

A And we are probably going to be seeing more and more of that happening this year, especially as the...

A I think, Franco, we talked about the Earth being at a frequency of 13.4 Hz and the Sun is giving us rays of about 28 Hz...so we are getting many, many accelerations of frequency coming in. There was one today, there will be another one on the 21st of June, and the next major one on August 8th.

A And as these frequencies come in, what's happening is that all beings...and when I say "all" beings, I'm not just talking about humans...

A You know, we talk about that candle being lit in a darkened room and it's giving out light...that's what's happening. It doesn't matter how many veils have been layered to try and bury the light.

A And what's happening is that as the frequency of the planet increases, it helps the light vibrate stronger.

A So people are feeling it.

A Like Franco and I today did a Clearing on the room in which we will be holding the upcoming event, and we could feel the change and we could also feel it in the buildings where we live.

A We also did a Clearing for governments and banks and those kinds of institutions, and we could feel the energy as soon as we tapped into it!

A And being there in Love and assisting to clear, we could feel it already breaking up.

A So that is what you are doing this weekend. And that's why we say, "Be there!" Listen to it, be part of it.

A This weekend is not so much about your individual journey...although we are all there to assist in each other's individual journey.

A This weekend really is about Oneness. Where all the souls are coming together...as we agreed upon before...to come together to raise, to assist humanity to move to the next level.

A Because, although there are people registered, which we need to have happen, there are many, many, many more souls that are hearing the vibration, the frequency going out to them, and they will be joining us at the soul level.

A So that's why this weekend is such a powerful weekend.

F Yes, and the thing is too, like you were mentioning about what was happening in Turkey...it's not the same as before where you have people coming together but you say, "Oh well, it's happening over there," and you feel bad, you feel sorry for whatever's going on with them. And then you feel that judgment, that resentment of, "Oh, look at how unfair it is that they are there attacking these innocent people who are there peacefully or just there making a statement about the fact that they want to see something totally different."

F Instead, suddenly people are feeling compelled to just go and join and combine their energies and saying, "Hey, we are coming together!" So it's a really powerful reinforcement. "We're coming together!"

F Because this was not about one person's agenda or about anyone who's making any particular rules, this is us all coming together and saying, "We all live here. We are all here to upgrade our experience. We're coming together!"

F And it's the same thing with the event we have coming up. This is a coming together.

F Because the work that we are going to be doing is something that we are bringing together and not doing individually...even though we are going to be individually affected.

F What we will be doing is also going to affect our family dynamics, it's going to affect our community, and it's going to affect our whole community...which is the community of the planet...and everything on the planet.

F So that's what makes this event so different. This is a global project that's being done...a global process that's taking place.

F And, the thing is, we've been asking for it, we've been creating it. And that's why we've co-created this event together. So the dynamics...

F Even the miniscule details of how this is going to unfold...it will unfold only moment by moment...as we're going through it. Because things are changing. Even though it's this weekend, which is now only a few days away...but in those couple of days...and as you know, Antonia, and so many other people are also noticing...so many things are still aligning so that the actual event will continue to shape and take form even while it's in progress. Because things are changing so quickly, because it will take form while it is happening it then aligns exactly with what is needed at each moment.

F So it's really a coming together so that we are doing it together.

F And it's not like we are coming together to "stand against" anything. We are coming together to amalgamate and use our creative energies and frequencies to create the environment that we are choosing.

F And it's not an environment that is ego-based. And it's not an environment with "stuff" in our life or anything like that. Because there are a lot of events going on about learning how to make more money, have more stuff, have an ideal life or something of that nature where it's still ego based and on a 3-Dimensional level.

F This is not. This is really transforming the playground so that the soul itself...so that each individual can actually be their fullest potential...not in the sense of the 3-D world, but their fullest potential in its Essence...its Creator Essence...its way of experiencing Itself in a physical form.

F So it's completely different in that respect.

F And it's very powerful.

F You have to understand, a lot of the old modalities and so forth that are being used...even creating ideal lives or whatever we've created before...the energy doesn't support it...you know, the planetary frequency, the frequencies that are being transmitted now...does not support it. So even if it does get slightly activated for a period of time, it does not sustain...it's not sustainable.

F So what we're doing now is we're going into what is in alignment with our world and the human experience that we are choosing to create, which is in alignment with the changes on the planet and the changes in our galaxy and the changes in our universe.

F So this like a huge transformation that is taking place.

F So it's completely different in that respect, too.

A I also wanted to let you know that we will be having a surprise guest coming to the event on Sunday morning, who is another dear friend of ours and who we actually spent time with today. He is a Feng Shui Master and a Qi Gong Master, and his name is James Foo. And we've known each other for quite a while. James is a wonderful man. He will also be doing a little bit of talking. And everyone will just love James (laughs). Anything you want to add about that, Franco?

F Well, let's put it this way: He really radiates a very interesting energy and it's also a very calming energy too. And it's a playful one also. But talking about "playing with energies," he's really good at that! (laughs). And it's funny too, when we were working today in trying to clear something out, he says, "Oh, I just ask it to leave!" (laughs) You know...it's like, "It's done!" He's very light. And at the event, he will be talking about working with energies...because that's what he teaches, too.

F In addition, I wanted to mention that I've had a couple of people write in to say that they wanted to attend live but they are going to be away at that time, or something like that. The thing is, if you really want to be there, you are. And you can listen to the replays after.

A Yes, and I had someone write in to mention that because each of us already has all the answers within us, then why do Franco and I do this work.

A We all came here with a skill set to serve. And the simple answer is that we are following that skill set. For other people, they might be doing different things. But this is what Franco and I keep getting pulled to do. We've been together doing this for many lifetimes. So even if we didn't want to, it's like someone is banging something over our heads saying, "You will do this!" (laughs)

A So, yes, we keep saying that we are all One, we are all doing this together. And we all have different "pulls." And this is our pull.

A Anything you want to add to that, Franco?

F Yes. When we look at Essence, Who We Truly Are, we are all the same. We're all exactly alike. We have full access to everything. Now, I can say that in one way. But in another way, we don't have that full access. Because we have purposely veiled ourselves and restricted our accessibility so that we can have an experience where we will get that access "back" ...and also learn and experience through it.

F So what we are doing at this point in time is that there are souls who have actually made choices and did whatever they did and have now achieved a removal of veils...so they may now have a little bit more accessibility...temporarily, or for a period of time...while the rest of the souls are doing the same.

F Some souls have decided to not reincarnate so many times, so may have decided to "wake up" more quickly than others.

F Other souls have decided to take the leisure tour of experiencing, or have said, "I always want to be 'behind' at this point in time, so that I can have the 'others' in front." But this is only...

F It's not that one's better than the other or anything like that. It's just the choice of having variety. We don't all have to be the racehorse in front...because there are others who would like to walk behind...and still others might make other choices.

F But, ultimately, every single soul will be exactly in the same place. But they will each get there via different paths, different experiences and so forth.

F So, as for us, at this point in time, we are basically being called to share what we have access to at this point in time to assist other souls to make adjustments within themselves so they can move forward.

F It's not that whatever access I have makes me "better." There is no hierarchy. There is no better or worse or anything of that nature. We're just at different levels of experience, different levels of accessibility. And we are assisting each other to go through it. So once we understand that...

F Like you said, Antonia, we all have different skill sets that we've come in with. We're not all artists, we're not all engineers, we're not all creators of one thing or another. We're all having different experiences.

F And even though there's 7.3 billion people on the planet, every single one is slightly different in one way or another. It doesn't matter if they are living in the same environment, on the same planet, they are each experiencing differently. And you say, "Why?"

F The point is we're not all here to have the same experience.

F But we still all gain because we're all connected as One.

F So, here we are, every single soul is going out there to play and is having a slightly different experience from one another. And what they're accessing, what they're learning, and what they're experiencing is still affecting every single other soul that is having a different experience anyway.

F If everyone was on the same path...or a huge group was on a single path...all we would be doing is repeating exactly the same thing, and we would be limiting the expansiveness, we would be limiting the variety. Here we are...Creator beings...we want to experience to the max. So let's have variety!

F And this is why is so much more difficult for us to get into mundane states where we just keep repeating the same thing every day and be OK with it. "I want more variety! I want to experience different things!" That's just part of what's coming through.

F So the soul is saying, "Hey, the reason we're fragmenting, the reason we're creating all these beautiful playgrounds, the reason that we are all encoding ourselves with slightly different series encodements, is so that we can all have different experiences from each other!

F But every single experience that every single soul has is still a part of the Whole.

F So, here we are, as Source Itself, which is our natural state, expanding Itself in its play, in its variety...and so forth. So what we are doing right now is going through a transformation where we're upgrading the playground, we're upgrading the human experience, we are terminating old programs, old ways of experiencing that have in the past created limitation. As much as all of that has served and has been in absolute perfection, we're now saying, "OK, now we're upgrading so that we can move forward and have a much greater, expanded experience." It's like the "Variety Park."

F Even the control structures and everything that we put in place and all the limits that we put in place, and the idea that we needed to repeat, and everybody has to have their ideal life and everybody has to have this or that, all the same, and so forth...as much as we tried that, we've played with that, and we've experienced and learned whatever we could from that point in time, now we're asking for more variety. That's why we're changing that.

F And part of this change is changing not only the playground and human experience, it's also expanding it in the sense where we can actually start using the physicality more than ever before! Because we are using such a small portion of it. Because of the fact that we got locked up in repeating the cycle...which had its perfection...but now we're saying, "We want to use every aspect of this physical form, every aspect of this physical playground, every aspect of the natural design that was in place...so that we can actually live as Source Itself within a human physicality and have no boundaries or limitations anymore."

F Because the moment we remove the boundaries, we are actually able to have much more variety. The fact that we don't want consistency in saying, "Well, I want the same thing over and over again," or, "I need to get caught in a pattern," or something of that sort...and even the movement from one another in relationships...and you name it...and behaviours that we do as part of our expression...will become so unlocked, so varied that we will go out and play and experience whatever we want.

F But the moment we get to the point where we say, "OK, I'm done with this, I want to move to the next" ...and you can go next, next, next, next...and it's not about saying, "Well, that's like a spoiled child who is not ever happy with anything" ...No. It's wanting to fulfill its greater desires and experience and play in each of those opportunities and in each of those creations. And then say, "OK, I'm done with this. Let me create something more."

F And each creation will exceed the last. And it will exceed and will exceed, further and further.

F This is our natural state of play.

F And this is what we've come here to do.

F So what we're doing now is for the souls who haven't yet gone "up" in the sense of awareness and consciousness, we're just facilitating other aspects of our self to get "there." But no one is "there" 100% anyways...because we're all moving together. So it's just a matter of working together.

F So when we're sharing, we are bringing what we are desiring that we have not been able to access yet, in a sense, because of the programming and because of the environment that we've created.

F We've created a really beautiful experience where we saw ourselves so locked up...no matter how much excitement...(this was the way it was before). It doesn't matter how much excitement we brought here as a child to really experience the planet, and to really experience the human physicality, and to really play with one another as playmates and be expressive. No matter how much of that was there initially, we've created a structure so that the moment you entered here you already were starting to be molded to become a drone, in a sense, or all playing the same thing. So we are all educated with the same information, we all have the same protocols of how to be and how not to be, how to think and how not to think, what to do and what not to do, and so forth. And that's what we've created.

F So that pattern has been repeated for so long that it's almost impossible to get out without any assistance. And the assistance has been our own souls assisting energetically and otherwise. But we also have souls that have come and chosen to say, "OK, let's bring all our beautiful brothers and sisters to that same level of freedom and play."

F So, yes, all we're doing...even with the processes that we're do...even the Source Codes and everything else...all we're doing is bringing every soul to its natural state, and upgrading the physicalities to play with it.

F But that is already there.

F But another part of this that we need to make clear...the thing is, we have access. As Source expands, as our universe expands in consciousness, as our galaxy expands, and all the beautiful souls on all the different levels expand...we all automatically have access to it.

F However, we have a series of veils. We have lessons which we have come here very specifically to learn and to do various things on this planet. And until we do that, we don't remove those veils. And therefore we are not able to access.

F But, right now, because we are coming to a point where we want to facilitate as a collective much more than before, we are really assisting each other so that we can get the lessons quicker.

F So anything that's shared...it's like, "OK, we've come to this reality. Great. Not only have I learned this, but now I even have some tools that I can play with, so I need to go out and experiment. Let me go out and do what I need to do. So that I can actually wrap up what I came here to do a lot quicker. So that I can move to the next, the next, the next, and so on."

F So that's really what's playing out.

F Yes, it's true that we're all exactly the same. We all have exactly the same amount of accessibility...on one level. But on another level, we don't all have the same amount of accessibility...at various stages of our experience...because we all have certain veils that we've purposely put there, that we've held in in place while we learn and experience what we need to learn and experience. Then as we're done with that, we remove another layer. And next. And next.

F And each layer that you remove, you become more consciously aware. You become more conscious of Who You Are, as Source Itself, having a human experience.

F So that's what's happening.

F The thing is, why do we go to anyone who may have experienced something and has learned from it? It's so we don't all have to learn the hard way.

F So we share, but, the thing is, everybody still have to go through their own path. Because it doesn't matter what we share or what we activate, each soul is still doing its own journey. Each soul is learning differently.

F It's designed that way. We've designed it specifically that way because we are not all here to have the same experience.

F And we knew that doing it that way would be very limiting...and we've experienced and learned from that over the thousands of years that we've been doing it.

F So that's really what's taking place.

F And we're just facilitating.

F And we're not the only ones. Each soul as they awaken will facilitate their family. Look at how many souls right now are waking up. How are they waking up? They are going through their experience and they are getting their realizations...but they are also accessing other souls that have created an opening because of a certain path that other soul may have taken. And it's like, "Oh, yeah! That feels familiar. That resonates with me. Yes, let me now explore a little more."

F But the exploration is self-exploration. So all you're doing is triggering self-exploration. Self-discovery,

F And it's like that marathon run...the 4-minute mile that seemed like it was a barrier that was impossible to break. And then there was one runner who broke the 4-minute mile...and right after that how many more were able to do it? Was that runner better than anyone else? No. He was just able to push whatever area of effort that was needed. And really was breaking a barrier which was really only a barrier of the mind saying, "You can't do it. It's impossible!" Because even the doctors at that point in time said that the heart would explode. "You'll have a heart attack. There's no way!" And how many runners since have continued to break that barrier with it being set to an even shorter time?

F So the souls who are participating who are ready right now, they are going through this transformation themselves. And then they are sharing with other aspects of themselves...it could be family, it could be friends, it could be a community, it could be globally.

F And as they share, all they are doing is sharing and triggering others to move forward. Again, it's always going to be different. But it triggers that knowing within.

F Yes, we have access to everything once we remove the veils. The veils are our own doing...and how we each remove them will be different as we go through our experiences.

F So once someone can show you what's underneath the veil, then you will be more like, "Oh, OK. Then let me go and do what I need to do so I can remove some of these veils. Because it looks like it might be a lot more fun going over and playing over there. But I'm going to do it my way anyway, because I'm going to learn and have an experience myself in my own way...in my own encodement...and what I came here to do."

F So getting a peek of you, or even letting people see what they already have access to...that's really what's happening. And then they fly...they fly!

F We're not here to be gurus or to say that we have all the answers. Yes, we can lead you to finding your own answers...but that's just because we took on a role to do that. That doesn't mean that everyone else doesn't have the same accessibility at some point and can say, "OK, now I want to play that role and I want to facilitate my other aspects."

F This is not about one person or a group of people or even just a few people shifting the whole planet. It starts that way. But, really, it's just about everyone assisting each other. We're all in it together.

F This weekend event that we're having,,it's all about together.

F If it was just basically one person doing it, I might just as well do it only from my home or do it wherever I choose to do it...and shift...which is happening, in a sense, with the work I do behind the scenes.

F But, the thing is, each and every soul says, "I want to learn how to do it!"

F It's like a child. A child wants to be shown. But they don't want you to do it for them. "How can I do this? Oh, OK, this is how you do it. Let me go do it." How many times have you seen children who want to know how something is done, but then they want to do it for themselves? Not only do they want to do it by themselves, but they want to experiment! They want to do it even better...or different...or in some other format. But somebody just showed them. "Oh, yeah, you can do that!" "Yeah, I can tie my shoelaces, no problem!" And they go tie their shoelaces. "Yeah, I can do that. But I'm going to do it a little differently," or, "I want to experience something else."

F And when we go to school, what are we doing? We are being exposed to information. In our natural state of education (which we don't seem to be experiencing at the moment...but which is shifting) the education system will show you one way of doing it and then encourage you to basically just go out and experiment. Experiment. Learn. Play. Come up with even grander realities. Use your own imagination and creativity to do whatever you choose to do with this.

F So that's really what's happening here.

F And if there's work done behind the scenes, or something of that nature, it's because we are guided to do so.

F And, the thing is, we do not do anything that we've not...in any way, shape, or form...been asked to do.

F Remember...each soul is doing exactly what has it has negotiated...what it has agreed to with all the other souls.

F My soul could not come on this planet as an enlightened, fully-unified soul if it was not approved by every single soul on the planet saying, "Yes." Now there are scenarios where the different ego minds and the different programs may say, "No, we don't want that to happen," but that does not have the same pull. So the invitation was there and the presence came. But am I here to take over or do something of that nature? No.

F I come here only to assist, enlighten and for everybody to just fly and go. I'm not here to carry anybody or anything like that.

F And neither is any other soul. Because there are other souls here who are advanced too, who are facilitating and assisting, and so forth. And it's really just assisting one another so we can all fly.

F We came here together. But we are all having individual experiences. But we are still doing it together.

F So whatever's going to play out this weekend, it was an agreement that was made and constructed. You know, Antonia, as much as you felt guided to have the event, and I felt guided to be part of it, the guidance came from a collection of souls who were saying, "Hey, we're ready for this right now. We need some more preparation to stimulate accessibility that we want to stimulate within ourselves so that we can start working together."

F So really, the work is so that we can work much more closely together. And when I say "together" that means every single soul on the planet.

F So this has all been orchestrated that way. Nothing is being forced.

F You know, I've even heard from people, "I don't want this to happen. I like it the way it is," or whatever it is. Well, if they like it and they already knew that this transformation was coming in and if they really, really seriously needed that at the soul level...because, really, that's why they were coming here is to have that whole experience...then why bother saying, "I'm going to Earth." And then they get to Earth and they say, "Well, I'm only going to go on part of the ride and then I'm going to stay outside the ride, because I'm not ready to give up that play." And there's nothing wrong with that. It just says, "OK" and then it will check out or it will reincarnate on another planet...because there are other planets.

F And also on the weekend we'll cover some of the freedom that has been established since the shift.

A OK. We will now do one more question for tonight and it is as follows.

How to you embody love, joy and a higher awareness while experiencing the loss of a loved one? It seems as much as the experience of loss can be a great teacher, it also seems like a set-back since it feels like grieving is a very long process.

F The thing is with that scenario, first of all, the loss was agreed upon by the soul that is departed and also by the souls that have been left behind...and when I say "left behind" I mean the ones that remain to stay on the playground.

F The grieving aspect of it is really the mind itself holding on. And it can feel right to the heart. But that's an emotional energy that is being directed towards the heart.

F The soul itself realizes that there was an agreement for this to take form. It will allow the mind and the physicality to experience what it experiences because there is a learning process from that. And the learning process is that there is no "loss." The learning process is to be OK with the choice of souls going in and out and really having no attachment.

F You know, we can experience love with someone and that love can be very profound, and you can feel that that love is necessary and beneficial for your existence. And it can be very powerful in that respect. But, at some point in time, that love does not need to break...it just needs to upgrade to something that does not depend on a physical form to be there to have that love. If we're going into an unconditional love, a connection, then at times that needs to occur.

F So it's really a process at this point in time to look at all the stories that come up as to why are we feeling "loss." Because a lot of times what I find with people who are grieving, it keeps projecting an image, it keeps projecting a story, "I enjoyed this. I enjoyed that. I had this experience in my life and I had that experience in my life. I can see how beautiful it was when we were together," and the roles that were played, and so forth. Especially if it's a child or a very close family member, or it can even be someone who we loved dearly in a partnership, and so forth.

F However, for your highest good, that change occurred. Because it needed to change...for both souls to move on in a different way.

F So the answer to that is to go in and observe what continues to perpetuate the grief. Because usually it's just a series of thoughts, stories and so forth...because it just keeps projecting something outside.

F As much as it may have been beautiful or whatever...and it still is because it never ends anyway...every connection never ends. Even if it was several lifetimes ago, we still have that connection.

F And this is why a lot of times when we meet a soul that we've had a past life with, sometimes we bring...because we still have the memory at the soul level. (And that's something that we'll cover on the weekend event as well...as part of the clearing aspect of it.) And all of a sudden we feel a very intense, "I need to re-unite with this person. I need to be in this person's life." Or sometimes you may have an activated fear...a fear of "loss"...because you may have lost that soul in a past life. It could have been a parent, it could have been a child....

F And I've seen it. I've worked with people and all of a sudden they meet someone and they feel this very powerful sense of loss, this very powerful sensation. Or even gravitating so that they become attached to them. And the attachment is because of an old program of loss or something from a past life where they've lost them. And in that state of consciousness it left an imprint in their soul, and now they are re-living that. But the only reason they are re-living it is to transcend it, to really learn the lesson from it.

F So the lesson here with feeling the loss is to really look at it and say, "We're in a beautiful flow here...of coming in and going out. We come. We appreciate the beautiful dance that we've had with each other. We see the love that was shared. But we also see the perfection of the change that had occurred.

F And also to notice if there is an attachment to it being a certain way and for that person to be there...then it is for us to really work on detaching from the need to have that be a certain way.

F Because there was no way that this loss...what we call "loss",,,because there is never a "loss"...but this separation on the physical projection aspect of it was agreed upon by both souls. Or a multitude of souls that were all involved. So the only reason it occurred was because of the agreement.

F But there was another reason behind that and that is because this had to be activated: the old modality of feeling loss of feeling somehow that we have to grieve and feel bad because someone stepped out of our lives.

F The door opened up for us to go out and experience something totally different. And we created it. We asked for it.

F And this is what we needed "next."

F Because a lot of times what we find is that having certain individuals in our lives creates a dependency or a certain level of comfort or a pattern is created that doesn't allow us to shift. So, at some point, when one is done, it says, "OK, it's time to move on."

F And it's the same thing with relationships. How many people go through grieving when there's a break-up? There's no loss through death, but the loss is felt through a break-up. But once you get over the loss, you see the perfection of what needed to happen and you can actually see how it actually served.

F And it needed to change. Because it wouldn't have happened if that change wasn't necessary.

F Even sometimes people say, "Well, they were old," and so forth. Yeah, that's kind of the illusion aspect of it because of the separation. But either one could have left...or could have lived longer...it doesn't matter. But that change had to occur.

F Because sometimes the loss ends up making it go deep inside and having it force a further discovery of ourselves. And through that discovery we see what did we rely on? What did we attach ourselves to? How did we identify with someone being in our life?

F Because people can get into a relationship or have a family member and they start identifying with that. Or all of a sudden we feel we can't move. It's the soul saying, "Hey, wait a minute here. This is not working out. We need to do something." So something is orchestrated to take form.

F So, at this point in time with the grieving, yes, allow yourself to go through the grieving and not stop it. And when I say to not stop it, I mean to just experience it to its fullest intensity...and then just let the grieving go. In the sense of when you let it go, you hold it in place until it starts to weaken and then you just...with great love...it's almost like taking a flower in your hand (which is the grief) and just offering it...offering it to our son, for example.

F And then you can look at the stories. And it's not even replacing the story of appreciation and say, "OK, I feel that I lost this person and now I appreciate they were in my life." Yeah, you can look at that. But don't create another story on top of that.

F Yes, I understand that you were in each other's lives...for the duration that served. And now that's changed...because it serves. It served before to be together...and now it serves to not be together. As strange as that may sound to people, especially if it was a child or something of that nature.

F And, again...we're here to learn. We're here to play. We're here to experience. We're here to work together. We are in each other's lives to facilitate one another.

F Sometimes people say, "Well, you know, I have a child coming into my life." Well, yes, maybe at first the child may be coming into your life because there is a "need." "I need to be amongst them." And that's an old program, too...that, "I need to play house, I need to play out whatever it is that I desire because that's how I've been programmed." Which, again, serves too, to some degree...until it no longer serves. But even that interaction of it coming about, there are lessons.

F So a child comes into your life and the child is a soul who had agreed to come and play a role in your life, for whatever duration was required. Of course, the child has also learned from the experience at the soul level, too.

F But they come into your life and they are your greatest teacher. (laughs) As much as you might say, "Well, I want to have a child so that I can mould them and let them have what I didn't have," or something like that...I've heard that many times. Or that, "I want to create a world or a reality or an experience for them that I wasn't able to have as a child. And now I want to see it through my child's eyes. I want to see the wonder and everything else through my child's eyes." But then we're trying to live through someone else. And the child may come through and teach you totally differently...in the sense that, "Hey, you don't live through me; you live through your own experience. We are here to participate with one another."

F And they may play totally opposite and not "cooperate" in any way...but, again, it is for your highest good because that is what your soul is desiring. But then the child becomes a teacher in a form that was not expected...in what we could, in a sense, call "the school of hard knocks." (laughs) Or at least it may look that way, when, in fact, they are just playing a role.

F And then when it's done, it's done. "It's OK. I came and played a role. I did what I need to do for myself and also to facilitate others. The agreement's done." And so the soul says, "We're done! See you later!"

F And then, of course, the mind of the person left behind has not quite adapted to it and will go into grieving and loss. But grieving and loss is not at the soul level. Because at the soul level it is always connected. It will still show up whenever it needs that interaction. The soul's not going to feel a loss. It's the mind that feels the loss. Because the story created a pattern of having that other person there...because of a dependency, attachment, or whatever.

F Because, the thing is, you can love someone unconditionally, you may miss someone who is not there, and you can feel that, "I can't touch them, I can't do that part of it." But you also had a great appreciation for them while they were there. And now that they're not there, you can see it as perfection.

F As you become more conscious it becomes easier. And you don't have to go through the grieving process because you come to a higher realization that you know that it's just in and out.

F The human program will have grief. But it's usually a very short-lived one. It's only when we create it to be longer. So look at that aspect of it too, and that will help.

F And moving forward...even though it might look like a step backward or something of that nature...really, what it's doing is exposing some of the still-active programs within yourself...your active programmed defaults...even though it may have come from the lineage of your family, there are still programmed defaults that come up. And the default is just showing you it's there.

F At the soul level we are saying, “We want to be free! And how can I be free if I have attachments to things needing to be a certain way?” For example, “I need to have a career. I need to have relationships. I need to have someone in my life. I need to have things be a certain way for me to feel good.” That’s not freedom.

F The ultimate freedom is requiring nothing...but experiencing, enjoying and playing with everything at the same time. You’re not needing it, but it’s there and available as you need it and as you choose to play with it. And that’s basically what you’re doing. So that’s when we get to that level of freedom. And that’s really what a part of you is asking at this time. “Let’s get freedom. Let’s appreciate whatever comes in at each moment.”

F Because the appreciation is your own creation. We create every reality, every experience, everything that unfolds in our life. We are creating moment by moment.

F There’s nothing that can happen, nothing that can play out in any form or circumstance that you are not, at some level, agreeing to play with.

F Even though sometimes we will create (and this gets quite common, too) at a mind level where we have all these desires because we’ve seen something...it will materialize, it will create that. But it also creates a polarity so that you can actually free yourself. Even though you desired it and you created it, you lose it. And the only reason you lose it is to show that the attachment is there.

F And, “Really, did I actually need it?” Well, you may have needed it for that moment in time to have that experience, which we call the old programmed human experience...but now we’re done with that.

F Hopefully, that is comforting in the sense of having an understanding.

F So really look at what’s playing out. Because, again, it has served.

F And you haven’t really stepped back, you just got to dig a little deeper and got to see what the programs are.

F And sometimes we feel disconnected...and I’ve heard this many times too...“I feel more disconnected now. Because all these things happened in my life. Now I don’t feel connected anymore.” What’s happened is that a lot of programs have been activated so that it’s creating the illusion of disconnect. Because the beautiful, subtle, higher, intuitive, knowingness or Essence That You Are within you is getting drowned in the mind and the dance that the mind is doing with all the reactions and programs and so forth.

F Really, you never lose the connection. It just seems that way because it gets drowned. So as you get over that part, you’ll notice the connection is restoring. But all you’re doing is quietening it enough so you can hear it.

F And that’s why a lot of people use meditation...because you feel like you’re connecting. What’s you’re doing is quietening so that you can actually access or be able to see the connection.

F We actually never lose the connection, but there's so much other activity all around it covering it up that we can't see it. It's there...but we can't see it. It's like a cloudy day. The sun is not gone...it's still there, it's still shining. It's just that the clouds are covering it. (laughs) And this is what's happening when we're having a reactive response within the mind...because then we feel that we're disconnected. Like, "The sun is gone! My connection's gone!" No. It's there. It's just clouded over right now with the human modalities playing out.

F So I hope that provided some insight for you and was of assistance.

F And for those who feel guided to participate in this weekend's event, please do so (either now or with the recordings). The whole experience of coming together (either now or on the recordings) will stimulate and assist you to feel that you're not walking alone, that you're not the only one feeling isolated.

F Because many, many people are still living in a world where their surroundings are so not reflective of what they're feeling inside. So it's great when you come together either in person or online or on the recording to be around other aspects of yourself and to create that connection. And it really reinforces, "Yes, we're here together. We're working together." And you realize that there are others who are going through various experiences...some people like to call them "challenges," (laughs)...we can say that if we want to label it that way, but they are not really "challenges," they are "opportunities" that we are playing with and we are just having a variety of experiences.

F And even the sharing with one another and the information that is shared...because this event has a lot of processes in it...the processes are very powerful to help you on your journey.

F So that as you get more "activated," in a way, and "cleared out" yourself...because what we're doing is just facilitating what you are choosing to do...then you will be able to radiate more light and radiate more consciousness to all the other people in your life. So that you are actually becoming a bridge, in a sense, for everyone in your life. Now, once again, everyone will have their own choice as to how they want to go about that...But you will do that.

F We are making this event (and the recordings) available because it was asked that it be made available.

F You can let others know about the recordings too. Especially those who may be going through "challenges" or moments of un-clarity where they may feel that, "I need to connect. I need to get something to stimulate me so that I can move forward."

F So the recordings will be made available and they will be there to be used by those who feel guided to do so.
