It is now August 8, 2013, and this is the 4th and final instalment of the 4th Dimension.

For anyone who's been following what's been happening in the world, you will know that there's so much going on all over the world. And we're going to address some of that tonight because people had some concerns.

Franco

Yes. And it's always great when we get together because the more of us coming together the more powerful it is. And even though someone may not be live on this call or even involved with the journey, at the soul level many, many souls are...even though their minds are busy...the souls are right into it and ready to participate and work together. So that's the beautiful part of it.

A lot of times we think. "Oh, there's not that many people who come together and do this" ...we can come together consciously and become active in it, which is very powerful...but there are also a lot of souls that are backing it up and are kind of celebrating for it to take place. So that's the part of it that's so great.

Before we start taking questions, I would now like to set a basis about what's happening. There's been talk...you know, we've been talking about this being the 4th Activation. And sometimes people say...and I've heard this a few times...people say, "I thought we already jumped into the 4th Dimensional consciousness." I have said that yes, we are, but, the thing is, it had to be staged. Because it's a huge shock for humanity at this point in time being so ingrained in the 3rd Dimensional consciousness...in a very, very dense state...which has served and created a powerful opportunity for growth...for sure.

But even though the 4th Dimensional consciousness is actually a bridge into the 5th...which is where we are choosing to go into...it is still a huge step, and it's a pretty powerful step for many....and even the planet itself. The planet has held so much energy, it has held so much

3rd Dimensional consciousness and so much dense, dark energies for so long while we were on this playground and playing, that doing it all in one very powerful Activation would have caused a lot more turmoil on the Earth plane itself. There would have been a massive purging that would have occurred. And talking about earthquakes and volcanoes and other weather patterns and polarity shifting and so forth, it would have been a lot more intense done all in one swoop.

So, with great Love, it was done in four parts...even though the first parts were very close, this last part, which is a huge one and which is happening today (August 8, 2013), was to put the rest of the codes in place and to open a certain band of frequency to allow 4th Dimensional consciousness to be fully streamed now.

So 4th Dimensional consciousness is getting fully streamed as of today. However, there is a period of integration that the planet itself is allowing, and that is from now until about January 2014. So it will continue to integrate and will become fully integrated by January.

The souls on the planet are also being allowed and exposed to these codes and so forth, so there will be even more surges within ourselves...not only on the physical plane but also there is an activation through the soul level and also through the mind and consciousness. So it will create more urgency and more sense of exhilaration too through not only purging but also because of the excitement of stepping into something completely new.

So this is what's going on at the moment. And humanity, of course, has the opportunity until the end of 2014 to get fully integrated into 4th Dimensional consciousness. Many souls, at some point in time, will become fully integrated with the planet itself...some are already there right now and others have already started on the path for the 5th. But we have that requirement as much as possible at the soul level to be at least at the entry-point of 4th Dimensional consciousness by the end of 2014.

There are still a lot of souls in 3rd who are working away. There have been a lot of commitments through a lot of souls on the planet...about 52% of the planet has committed to do whatever possible to become, at a minimum, at least 4th Dimensional consciousness by the end of 2014. And it's not 100% guaranteed all the time that each and every one will achieve it, but there is that desire and they are taking the steps forward.

So many people are going to feel huge changes as we go along and many have started some time ago, but it actually will escalate even further. Because in a way the soul is excited. The soul is really choosing to really get on board and be part of it. Even if it's not able to get everything, it will get the maximum it can get because it creates a huge transformation within itself and it will prepare itself for another incarnation if it's not going to be able to make it through completely.

But it's all a celebration, it's all a beautiful dance and it's seeing itself through it. And, through that, of course, the human component of it...which is part and parcel of all of it...will go with the ride and will experience all of the exhilaration and everything else that's playing out as we go along too.

And the other 48% basically have made a commitment and have...at this point...and I have to say, "at this point," because some say, "Well, we're not going to make it so what we're going to do now is facilitate as much as possible. We're going to choose when we have an exit point. We're also going to facilitate all our brother/sister souls which are just other aspects of ourselves, to play whatever role that it is...whether it's polarized roles or whatever it is...to advance the other aspects of ourselves." However, during that period of time it can and still has the opportunity to get to a certain level where it says, "Yes! I can do it now!"

Because a lot of times we find that when we let go, we are then able to move forward...easier. You know, sometimes we want to make changes in our life and we struggle, struggle, struggle and push, push, push to make it happen, and we get involved in so many different things and we really want to get things going. But then we find that it's actually a very powerful uphill battle. But many times when we finally get to the point where we say (sighs) "I give up. I'm not going to fight any more. I'm just going to flow with things and I'm just going to do my part." And a lot of times the shift is from push and effort to make a difference within yourself or to change something within yourself or change your environment or experience of whatever it is...and you say, "OK, I'm going to go with the flow, but I'm also going to connect with my brother/sister souls, and we're just going to play, sort of thing. We're going to play with each other and see whatever happens." And then, bingo...huge shifts occur because of the letting go. It's almost like an opening. It was push, push, push and then you finally relax and then its, "Oh! I was pushing on the door trying to get out and then I realized that when I let go I just had to turn the knob and the door very easily opens the other way!"

So it doesn't mean that because the soul says, "I don't think I can do it," that it won't do it. Because there is still the possibility for that.

So that is where we are at, at this point. And there are a lot of exciting things coming about. And it can look fearful in a way at times because of the way the shifting occurs. But if we just continue to focus on the beautiful unfoldment that we are...still all co-creating together...and we are doing all of this together...and we are in the forefront of this creation...we are in the forefront of having all this stuff unfold...and we are in a state of holding on and looking at things and saying, "Hey, listen! We're doing this together! We're here because we want to be here! We want to be part of this and we are going to go for the ride! We're going to go for the ride and we are also going to participate in the ride. And we want to make sure that we get the maximum benefit out of this ride."

But it's not a maximum just for ourselves...it's a maximum for all aspects of ourselves. Because when you look at the maximum aspect for all of us...for all aspects of Who We Really Are...it is still us (laughs). It is other parts of us that are also being part of it and being exposed to all of it. So it's all working hand-in-hand.

So this is where we're at. And I just wanted to give you a little update because sometimes there is a bit of clarification that is required for people to really see what's going on.

You know, sometimes all we get is doom and gloom and we hear stuff and there's still a lot of influence coming in from different levels. But we have to understand that the moment that something triggers fear in us, it's not about the circumstances, it's not about what's going to happen or not going to happen or anything of that nature. It is just showing us that there is still something within ourselves that we need to go through, learn from it and then let it go. It's still a trigger, still a program, still an automatic response for us.

Because once we're clear, it doesn't matter what's happening around us, we're not in a fear state. That's the thing. So certain things will occur which will involve participation from other souls that will exit or do this or that...whatever it may be...or play a very dark role, whatever that might be...and if we look at it and respond in a fearful or negative way and we see that the whole world is falling apart and things are going this way or that way...whatever it may be...then that's the automatic programmed response that we need to look at and play with. Because if we're in fear then it still has a grip on us and so we need to play with that.

And the other thing that I want to mention is that it's not always about just letting go...although that is first and foremost...but there is some completion work here too. You get what you need to get out of it...the "gem" out of that experience. So we have to keep that in mind. I know that we've talked about it before but I just wanted to bring that up again.

So it's not to just put the effort on, "OK, clear, clear, clear!!!" Because a lot of times when we are saying that we want to clear, clear, clear, it's almost like, "I don't want to have these intense feelings. I don't want to be in this reactive mode," or whatever else. And there is a lot to be gained from that, a lot to learn from it, a lot to experience when that's happening. So we need to look at it and then we can see a lot of the stories, we can see a lot of the programs and patterns that we've taken on. So we experience it, go through the emotional stuff, and then go of the program. And you will notice that once you've done that, it is much easier to do so than when we're in the state of, "I've got to clear! I've got to clear! I've got to clear!!!"

Because a lot of times when we "want to clear!" it's because we don't like the experience. (laughs) Or that we judge the experience. Or that we feel that our life is going down one road and, "I really want the road to go a different way." Well, the thing is, it's like, "I'm going on this ride but I don't want to be on the ride. I really want to be finished with this ride so I can go on the next ride!"

Well, the point is, if you're going to get on the ride, enjoy the ride, take everything that you can from the experience and everything that you need to learn from the ride...and then you can go on to the next ride. But you only go to the next ride because you're done with the other ride. It's not because, "I don't like this ride! I've got to get off this ride and get to the other one because the other one is going to be better."

So a lot of times it's, "I've got to sort this out so I can have the relationship." "I've got to sort this out so I can have this in my life." "I've got to sort this out so that my career is better." "I've got to sort this out so that I can then feel more at peace." That has some validity to it but, the thing is, it's not about the outcome. You're in the ride...so be in the ride. This is why it is so key to go back into the moment. We're in the moment. We're in the ride. See, take, look at whatever is playing out. Experience it fully. Go right into the whole intensity, the whole experience...at all levels. And really get the gem out of it. Get every aspect of it. And then move onto the next thing. Then you can clear it...very easily.

But when you are going into the clearing, it's not, "Let's avoid! Let's clear! Let's get out of here because I don't like it here!" Like we've said before, when we are resisting, judging or something of that nature..."I can't stand this anymore!" ...really it's just showing that we still have programs within that or we still have stuff that we haven't learned from it. Because the moment you're rejecting something...it's in the moment when you're in the ride and experiencing it fully you get to the point where, "I'm done with the ride." You can actually feel it...you're done. You're basically seeing yourself and it's, "Hmmm. (realization) I don't need this anymore. And not only do I not need it, but it served. And not only did it serve but I don't need to repeat it." ...because it's really about repeating it...and then you can move on...very easily. It's like I was saying before: you get to the point of. "Huh! There you go! I'm done with this!" And guess what? It dissolves very quickly and it's then easy to let go.

So, right now, with this Activation that we've just had and all that's ramping up...because this is not...this was the Activation for 4th Dimensional consciousness so we're not going to have any more of that...but we are going to have a lot of other activations to assist us along the way for us to move forward. So there's new waves of energy, new coding going in, new activations....which will facilitate us. But they will also facilitate the planet with making adjustments in the planet.

And, right now, like you were saying earlier, Antonia, you're seeing a lot of the old stuff coming through. The Earth is actually purging a lot of the energies...a lot of the intense energies: the bloodsheds, the wars and everything else that it has greatly taken in while we were playing in that very deep 3-D world. So it's going through that whole purging process right now.

And we're doing the same thing. We've taken on a lot of different experiences which we've held onto, defined ourselves by them and so forth. And all of it has served. All of it has been absolutely amazing. But now it's like, "OK. We're done with this. We really don't need this path. We really don't need this part of us to be in place."

So as much as we may have the memory...and that still serves, in a way...the memory of the experience...but it won't be emotionally charged, it won't have an automatic reaction, it won't have that intensity of bringing us back to our old state. So you can now experience it as a movie. But you can also experience it as a...I don't like to use the word "victory" ...but in a way a victory...and you can say, "Wow! Look! I went through that experience and I really had an awesome experience from it and look at where I am today because of it. I just really created a magnificent dance there that I experienced! And look where I am!!! I am in another place now and ready to take on different opportunities and to expand even further." So it's a whole different way of looking at it, it's a whole different way of feeling about it...it's a whole different way being presented by your memory at that point in time.

And eventually even the memory may not serve and just the nugget that was in it...the gem...the actual lesson that you chose to learn in that particular life...because we choose those lessons ourselves...it's not that it's mandated on us...it's been achieved. So great...that memory can then dissolve. A lot of times the memory may still be there but it doesn't come up and trigger you because none of that is necessary anymore. All the programs are gone so you are looking at it as a complete movie.

So as we go along, at this point in time, we will have other activations and so forth. But, the beautiful thing about it is that it's all perfectly designed collectively to really enhance us, to really create a further preparation for us to embrace this new design...this new world.

Because what we are really doing is re-designing the whole human experience, the whole way of looking at it, of feeling it, experiencing it and really activating aspects of ourselves in the physical form and all other forms of our expression so that we can actually play it out in a much more expanded way. So that's what we're doing.

And the planet will completely reflect this. And all the systems around the planet that we utilized in the past...things that don't serve will come down and new ones will come about. But everything will no longer create all the old modalities of suffering, struggling, survival, fear, judgment, competition or anything of that nature. It will reflect unity, balance, harmony, playfulness with one another, creativity, expression, achieving higher ways of playing in consciousness and how we can do it together, dissolving all barriers between one another and seeing each other as one thing...seeing everything as one thing, including the planet, the whole solar system, the galaxy, the universe and Source Itself...seeing ourselves as part of the whole magnificent dance.

And then you are like a child again, back in the schoolyard. But how you are in the schoolyard has no limits whatsoever. It has no restrictions in any way of doing things, playing or anything of that nature. Plus we're utilizing much more of our physicalities. So, in actual fact, we are able to use more of our senses and more of our ways of reconnecting and playing.

But the good thing about the consciousness and Oneness is now...what we've done up to this point in time is most of our learning, most of our experiences have been isolated as individualized units. Even though we are all collectively in the same space on the planet and in the solar system and galaxy and universe, we've been playing an isolated role.

But once we get into this full integration, fully stepping into 5th Dimensional consciousness and having ourselves fully integrated and having ourselves fully reconnected, then we are not only learning on an individual basis but we are also learning from one another. And that means that we are so connected that you can feel the experience and learn from other people's experience. So we're having multiples of inputs of experiences. And each one is emanating it slightly differently. So you're taking all of this in and now really experiencing higher levels of play and expansion and growth through the whole thing.

But it doesn't stop with one another on the planet here; it's also with nature, with the animal kingdom, with the insect world, the oceanic kingdom, with the pulse of the planet...and then with all our beautiful brother/sister souls who are all interconnected with us from other planets, from the ones that are on the planet, from the ones that are coming and going (and there'll be a lot more of that going on)...

So this is all the excitement, this is all that we're stepping into, and this is what we're doing...together...right now.

Antonia

So I'd call that having a party! (laughs)

Franco

Yes! Yes!

So now we can play with some questions.

Antonia

Well, there's still some questions coming in about "what is 4-D?" And then there's a couple of questions about how we had said that today is the 4th instalment but it's not done until January.

So just for clarification, Franco, I think some people may have missed that. We've already had three instalments of 4-D specifically to assist us to gradually move into 4-D...or it would be just too much of a shock. So we've had these, and most of them earlier on...but this is the fourth instalment. And we will be in this fourth instalment well into January (2014) ...meaning that the way that the energies are coming in...and I'm sure that a lot of the people listening right now (or later to the recording) who...because we all have different tools to assist each other with.

So those of you who can hear frequencies, or can see color frequencies...I'm sure you've seen different bands or you've heard different sounds coming in. And that's part of the different frequencies that are here assisting us now.

And that will kind of pulse, and continue pulsing and cause changes in humanity, on the planet, and in our galactic environment that will continue to unroll and unroll and unroll. And we will bask in these energies well into January (2014) to assist with the further unravelling of the illusions of the 3-D world that need to kind of dissolve.

So from now into January you will see a lot of movement, you will see a lot more truth coming out, you will even see how with the media that they will not be able to hide what's going on because it will just be so obvious that they will have to report on things. And I think you are seeing it now: so much is taking place that the media is now starting to report on at least a few things.

So we talk about stuff coming in and energies continuing until January. And I know, Franco, we talked about this before, but could you please explain again what being in 4-D means for the individual. And we've talked about the planet's experience as it enters the 4th Dimensional level: there's more transparency, there's more support for existence and so forth. So, although we've covered all this quite a bit in the past, could we go over it again a little bit right now?

Franco

OK. Well, as we go into the different dimensions, our experience comes less and less dense. Meaning that, in a sense, as we go into 4th Dimensional consciousness we have less reference to the physical form as our total existence...meaning that we are only in the physicality, we exist in the physicality, we exist in our mind, and we really we don't have the same powerful connection with the other aspects of ourselves...which is Who We Truly Are...so we don't actually see that. So we can easily get caught up in the drama, we can easily get caught up in the different things that are playing out in terms of our interactions with others and with what's happening.

For example, when you're in 3rd Dimensional consciousness you might hear on the news or in the media that such and such is happening and our automatic response at that point in time may be, in a sense, fear. But then, normally if there is a trigger of that nature if you are in the 4th Dimensional consciousness you can have that trigger but it would be a lot less of a trigger and it won't be lingering. It won't be like stepping into it and saying, "Oh my God! This is happening!" and getting caught up in the drama of that.

So if a situation is happening with family, if a situation is happening at work or anything of that nature, you're not going to get so caught up in the dramatic aspect of it and getting lost in the drama and buying into the physical world to the same degree.

Now, there is a contradiction there in the sense that we may dance in and dance out for a period of time while you're still completing certain things. But as you're stepping into a completely 4th Dimensional consciousness you have more of an awareness that you are more than the physicality and you're not so caught up in the 3-D world.

So you actually see yourself more empowered to navigate your journey where you're no longer...because in the 4th Dimensional consciousness there has already been a huge layer of victimization removed. Because what happens now in 3-D, most of the time we are living in a victimized state. We feel that we are a victim to the circumstances, to the people that we are playing with, to the environment, to the control structures...and that we have no power. And not only do we not have any power, but we have no say in anything. And basically it's, "I'm a puppet here and I've got to survive through this. If I can make it out of here then maybe I can eek myself out just a teeny little bit of a sliver of happiness or play or something of that nature along the way." That's the 3-D world.

Going into 4th Dimensional consciousness, first and foremost you are not caught up in that so you are much more aware of the higher aspect of yourself. And you start to see that you're not a victim...you're not a victim any longer. And, in actual fact, we are co-creating this, we're dancing with this, and, "I actually have a say not only in how I navigate my life but I also have a say in how we can actually transform our community, our environment, our planet...together." So you will actually start seeing more of that.

And then when there are situations coming up in the family dynamics or at work and so forth, instead of going right into it and getting all caught up with it you may just have a little tinge of it and experience it momentarily. But, at the same time, you can see the grand picture and say, "Ah! This is just a dance that's playing out all around me. And whatever will play out will play out. And if I'm having certain emotions or whatever it is, they are here for me to play with and clear and that's it." So it's very easy.

So it doesn't matter if all of a sudden you lose your job or something happens to a family member or there's all this drama with a family member, you are actually now not only an observer but you are actually the light and the calm within that scenario. So, in actual fact, you don't get caught up in saying, "Oh, my God, this is what's happening!" Instead, it's, "Great! This is an excellent opportunity. Let's take a look at what we can play with, what we can learn from this, how we can transcend this." And you will see it as an opportunity.

So as we're stepping more into the 4th Dimensional consciousness, that's more how we feel and we're not getting caught up in the drama...but we're also less driven by our emotional responses and so forth.

And the play becomes lighter. The play becomes more active where you are empowered through it so you can navigate more. So this is what you're moving into.

But the other component that's key is...when you step into 4th, but especially into 5th...you are now seeing the connection, that Oneness that I was talking about earlier...you start to see the connection of being One. You start to see that, "It's not just about me. It's about all facets of me. And we are working together." So you will see that we're coming together, we're working together, we're creating the environment...and even our own little dance...together.

So it goes even further than the victim role or feeling that somehow you are a victim of circumstances or family members or people that we're playing with...you see that we're all playmates together and we're working together. And, "Let's work together to change all of this so that we no longer have to repeat this cycle." And that's how you'll see it: not wanting...and I shouldn't say "not wanting" ...but not desiring to repeat the cycle so we can learn. Instead, we say, "OK, let's observe. Let's see what the gift is here. Let's take this to the next step. And let's move forward."

And as you become more into the 4th Dimensional consciousness and then going into 5th, you become Light. You carry much more Light. That means that no matter where you are your vibration, your frequency is higher. And others around you actually feel that you are the center of the calmness amongst the turmoil that may be playing out where you are.

And the same thing when you see things happening on the planet...whatever's being stimulated, whatever's playing out around you, you're not going to get caught up in it in the sense where you feel, first of all, disempowered and feeling that you're a victim, feeling that you can be harmed, feeling that you have no say in whatever is playing out. You just say, "Ah. It's a beautiful dance around me." So you can now appreciate the dance around you but you are also holding that calm, you are holding that Light within yourself.

And not only are you holding that Light but you are emanating it so you are illuminating everybody else around you. So people will gravitate to you or will feel that somehow you are carrying something that brings a certain sense of peace for them so that it actually stimulates them to find that peace within themselves.

So that's what we're looking at when we're stepping into 4th Dimensional consciousness. I know I described it slightly differently but it is the most descriptive term that we can bring up at this point in time.

And then, of course, in 5th we are going into a completely different playground. You start to activate more of yourself and you becomes much more a navigator through your journey.

So when we are in 4th Dimensional consciousness as a collective, you will now be able to...and this is why it's happening right now because of all the people stepping into it...you will be able to start looking at your world and see how it functions, how it serves, and how it would better serve to match our new level of experience. So that means that we're having a conscious awareness that we are in the mechanics of all of this, that we are in the driver's seat of all of this.

So when we are looking at the systems that are collapsing, we are going to look at it and say, "OK. What do we need and what don't we need? What serves and what doesn't serve?" You will be able to see it very objectively, very clearly without saying, "Oh, my God! What about this? What are we going to do! This is fundamentally necessary for us to survive because this is what we do." In the 4th Dimensional consciousness, as we come together in that way, you're not going to see it like that. You're going to see an opportunity to shift something, to create something completely new.

And this is why a lot of the changes are occurring right now and many are jumping in and saying, "Yes! Changes!" Now that doesn't mean that they are all for them; some are dancing back and forth. But there is that surge of 4th Dimensional consciousness.

And what happens in the 4th Dimensional consciousness of the planet and the energies that are coming through, it's going to become very difficult to continue playing the 3-D world: getting caught up in the drama, getting caught up in all the intensities and feelings of all that darkness around us. Because the darkness now has less to grab onto. And darkness still serves...and has served. But its purpose of it being there is no longer necessary to the degree it was before and eventually it won't be necessary at all. We don't need that polarity. At the soul level we already don't need it. But right now it still is serving to help us to clear old 3-D stuff within ourselves.

So that's what's really happening with the shifting into 4th Dimensional consciousness and what that actually means.

And when you're in that state you're looking at money systems, you're looking at the banks, and you look at all the different things that are in place, and you can now see how we can adopt it, or change it, or remove it completely and create something new, or see that it's just not required at all.

But you're not doing it with fear, you're not doing something because something else is going to happen. It's just, "OK. We're done with this. Let's move on. We're going to let this go. We're going to create something new."

And in many cases we're not going to create something new. We're going to find that we don't need it at all so we're not going to have to replace it with something.

Along the way we are probably going to have to make bridges...like some of the things that you've been working with, Antonia...bridges within the monetary system. Like we were talking about earlier that we are going into the value of the person rather than the false values that are created by the corporations and the different institutions and the banking systems and so forth.

But, again, ultimately getting into the 5th Dimensional consciousness and fully integrating that will take a few years to step into that completely, and the whole money system will dissolve altogether. Because you'll notice that the whole monetary system is completely unnecessary. And not only is it unnecessary but also we don't need to have any transitional exchange energy or anything of that nature.

Once we see ourselves all as One and we are all playing together, we will make sure that everybody has accessibility to everything without needing to "earn" it and get involved with that.

Because when you look at it, you can't "earn" anything. You're already Everything That Is and you are the Creator of everything that is. And you're on the planet because you chose to be here, and the planet is hosting you, and you are part of the gift within the planet itself because the planet itself and all the connections along are learning from the whole dance.

So it's a beautiful dance. And we're all in it together. And that's how you'll look at it.

Absolutely.

Now we've got a lot of questions about the financial end of things...and you mentioned about something that I've been working on so I just want to clarify that for people.

There is a lot of shifting going on and I've talked before about the OPPT which you can look up or you can find them on Facebook or at www.i-uv.com and you'll get to know Heather and what she's been doing. So I'll let you explore that and I won't go into a lot of detail about that.

But there is a bridge being created to assist people to move out of survival mode and to be more into living how we were meant to be: living in complete communities, living off green, renewable resources, living off permaculture...just re-creating how we can live as One. And as more stull comes out, I'll keep you updated.

But what I can say about all of that right now is that...we're having a lot of questions coming in about September and the energy shifting, about September being the beginning of the end and these kinds of things. So there may be stuff happening monetarily in the world and there may be movements to move stuff around.

And I fully agree with Heather and Brian and all the great teammates right now assisting with the former OPPT...which is that you have to know that whatever happens nationally in any country is that you are the value. Gold, silver, or any kind of precious stones, all they are is a reflection of trying to show the value that you are...the human being. So, for example, if all of a sudden they call for the currency to be backed by silver (or whatever), you've got to know that that's still just another illusion. The truth is that you are the value. That's it.

And that's why everything is falling apart. And that's why Franco and I have been talking for the past 6 years about the fact that money will dissolve because it cannot exist in how we are meant to evolve. So money will not exist. Now that usually creates a lot of fear around, "Well, what will I do with the money I have?" and so forth. I don't have an answer for you because everything is still evolving. But just realize when those kinds of questions are coming up, are they coming up out of fear? And then notice the thought, the idea, the belief that's behind it. And just look at that.

Because when you really realize that you truly are the value...each one of us, we are the value...do we really need money?

I'm getting questions coming in about September. Is it going to be the beginning of the end? A lot of channellers are saying that we are in a little bit of a grace period but then a lot of stuff will happen in September. Franco and I just kind of touched base briefly today before getting on the call tonight. And there will be some stuff happening in September, yes. But where we feel there will be a lot more activity is actually in October. And by activity we mean that the energy will be so much stronger in October that a lot of the illusions in government, in the money system, and in religion are going to be unravelled because the energy will be so much stronger then.

Do you want to add a bit more to that, Franco?

I'm not saying this to cause fear. If you are feeling fear then just look at it. It's not an Armageddon and it's not the end of the world. But, as Franco says, sometimes you've got to let go of what you think is important because that doesn't leave room for something new.

And if you look at your lives and you look at the jobs that we do, that we've done in the past, most of the jobs that we do are not necessary. And I say "most." Right? And life can be very different and we are moving into that world. So some things will dissolve. So flow with the new frequencies. Some things will have to leave so that new things can come in.

Anything you want to add to that, Franco?

Franco

Yes. Like you were saying: things are going to be escalating and so forth. But really what's happening...the thing is it's really not about that horrible things are going to occur. It's just that the energies are going to get to a point, another level, where things will just basically activate even more changes a lot quicker. And if you're looking at it and all of a sudden there's a lot of changes at once, guess what happens...a lot of times we have the fear...the fear of change.

Because, really, the fear of change is the fear of letting go of something that we're accustomed to...even though it may not be comfortable, even though... Because you've seen many times we hold onto a situation or an experience or a connection with someone or something with the fear of loss and so forth, but then once it happens and the dust settles, in a sense, then it's like, "Whew! That wasn't really necessary." Well, it's the same thing, it's like that.

The only thing is, coming into the Fall, i.e. September, October, November and into December...let's put it this way: the energies are increasing to another level...it's kind of like the dam sort of thing to let more flow through...so more changes will occur. That's really what's going to happen: many more changes will occur...in a shorter period of time. So it's another wave of change.

And, like you were saying, a lot of the structures and so forth will be challenged and much more...what may look like upheaval, in a way, because what was there is all starting to fall apart. But that's part of the taking down so that the new stuff can come through or for us to just be free from it because we don't necessarily need it.

So, in a way, if you're in that 3-D world and in that response mode which we were talking about, it may seem like it's much more impactful, like, "Oh my God! Everything that I held onto and trusted and based my foundations on are collapsing!" And it could be religion, money, a sense of security with people or scenarios or with things that we've had in our possession that we've created the illusion of security around...they will start to collapse.

The thing is...the whole point here...is not to create more suffering. It's not about balancing so that people who have not played out something a certain way now have to pay a price or anything like that. It's not about that at all. Really, what it's all about is we're effecting a change right now and we're just getting more into the nitty gritty of doing it. And that's all it is.

And it's not about...like I was saying...it's not about fear or anything of that nature. It's really about bringing a sense of ease...freedom...and peace within. So the reactive aspect of a 3-D mindset or consciousness is to fear things going on.

Even the stuff that people are talking about: the brewing of war and so forth...yes, it is brewing, but the outcome, again, in itself will not materialize unless it absolutely serves. And right now it doesn't serve because it will be an automatic reaction either way. Now if there's any activations in fears and so forth, it's really in servitude, in a sense, to give ourselves the opportunity to look at ourselves even closer to see some more activations that we have and so forth. And also to see how much we are attached to our world and our systems and our 3-D physicality and all of that.

So stuff like that will come up because it's part of our wrap-up. But if it activates anything within you, it's still always back to the fact that there's still something activate within you that you need to address, and so you're going to do that.

So we're not getting into (sighs and laughs)...the story is always, you know, it's not the end of the world...it's the end of the world that we knew of, what we thought our world represented. The world that we've been projecting has served. The world that we've projected has created much polarization. The world that we've projected has created illusions, conclusions, experiences of sufferings, survival, struggle, competition...all that stuff. Yes, absolutely. And it has all beautifully served.

But the world we're stepping into does not reflect that any longer. So the first glimpse, if while we're still holding onto the 3-D world it's going to feel like all hell's breaking loose. Because everything that we knew of, everything that we've identified with, everything that we've held onto dearly...

Especially like you were saying, Antonia, "What happens to the money we had?" or something of that nature. We've put so much value, so much power into having these savings and so forth and we've created this security blanket and all of that and then all of a sudden it...and I'm not saying that it's going to disappear...but in a sense that risk that was even was isolated for a period of time while the adjustments were going on, it's like, "Oh, my God! Everything that I've worked so hard for, and I've put my efforts into and so forth to make sure that I have a security blanket...and now here I am exposed! I have nothing to back myself up and I don't have my sense of security that I will have sustenance or a place to live or something of that nature for a period of time because I'm not going to be able to make payments and I'm not going to be able to go out and do what I want to do!" When you're looking at all of that...that's still part of the old programs. And that will come up only for us to...because that was part of the 3-D world. But that doesn't mean that it doesn't happen...it doesn't mean that it's going to happen that way... but it's going to play out, if necessary, for each individual.

But if there is any restriction that does occur in the 4th Dimensional consciousness, then you say, "Yes! Great! There it's happening!" Because you will know that you are ultimately in charge and that things will come about. And whatever you need, you're going to have. That is, what you really need...not what we project as an illusion that we need. And then eventually we will flourish even further once all this stuff changes.

So what we're doing coming into the Fall is just accentuating and speeding things up a little more.

Like I was saying, this next activation which was today was the final code...the final combination, the final series of codes that locks in the frequency and opens up the ports for us to stream 4th Dimensional consciousness. And, in doing so, of course what's going to happen is that it's going to speed things up even further as we go along. And even though it will support us without causing a huge shift all at once, we've granted ourselves until January (2014) to integrate fully. So that means that it's been activated...it's streaming in...so it's not coming in in one block...it's giving us a chance to integrate so that, as we go along, things will come together....bit by bit...instead of taking it all in one shot.

So to see things playing out around us...just see that it's part of the change, it's part of what we are participating in. We're just letting go of certain things only to get more....and not more of the old way but more of the new way...more of the way that we can really flourish in.

And the other thing, too, this 4th Activation, again, is another very powerful Oneness consciousness coming through...another wave of Oneness consciousness. So, in actual fact, you will feel that you are not alone (laughs). We are in it together. We will start coming together with others. Because of the foremost fears that comes up is, "I'm alone!" And especially when certain things are not accessible because of certain changes in the construct.

So let's say, for example, you are not able to access your fortune or whatever you have in your bank at the time that was your sense of security...and for a period of time whatever may happen as we are going through the adjustments, and then all of a sudden, "Oh, my God! I can't do it. I have to do it alone and how am I going to do it?!" In actual fact, in using the activation of Oneness consciousness within yourself you can say, "OK. Great. I'm not the only one. And you start seeing that everyone else is on the same boat. And you pitch in together. "Let's work together. Let's make this about bringing us together and let's work together to make things work out...without fear, without survival, so that we can facilitate this change. And once things get restored in a different way, that we all flourish from it collectively."

So what happens is, people...when you're looking at natural disasters or something like that where people come together and they work together, they re-build things. They rebuild it and....and this is what we're doing: we're re-building it.

But we're not rebuilding it in the same form...we're re-building it completely new. We're not going to put our foundations on sand any longer. In this movement, basically the foundations will be on hard rock, or basically on what we call the core of everything...which is Who You Truly Are as Creator...not as the physical expression, which is only a Light show anyways but we won't go into that right now. So we're not going to create it on our fictional projection of outside play; we're going to build our foundation on our new playground based on Who We Truly Are: that Creator Essence, the Life Force of Everything That Is.

So it's totally different.

Antonia

OK. So we have a question as follows:

"Please give a scenario of some kind where you are so immersed in information that it ignites fear."

OK. So to give a scenario of change...things are changing so much, it's difficult to give an example. But let's take the example of money right now because that's one that most people have a concern about. So let's give the scenario where in the 3-D world money was where you had to work hard to earn it, to save it, to store it so that you could take care of yourself and so that you always had money put aside for rainy days...and I'm sure we were all brought up with that, right? So that was pretty much the 3-D world. And money was an illusion in the 3-D world that was created by a few...call them the Illuminati, call them the cabal, call them whatever name you want to give those other expressions of ourselves who were here playing that role. And most of humanity has, by agreement, been kept enslaved and ignorant of how that all worked. So that's a 3-D scenario: the money system. You can pretty much copy that scenario over to the banking system, the governmental system, the medical system and so forth. And, once again, we've all agreed to play that role.

So in comes 4-D...in comes the 4th Dimensional energies. And people start really researching into what really is money? What's it doing here? Where does it come from? How does it get created? And as the energy gets lighter, people start sharing information about, "Well, you know, what? Actually, money doesn't really exist!" You know, we've talked about for a long time, it exists only on a computer. And somebody enters it into your account and either you have it or you don't have it.

And you keep asking questions and people keep sharing information and you start standing up and realizing, "Wait a minute! When I signed that paper, that money did not exist until I signed that paper. So therefore I created that money. I created the money for the bank. So if I created the money for the bank, then why do I have to pay the money back to the bank and why do I have to pay back interest to the bank? Right? So people start asking questions. Now if you go to your bank and tell them this, they will say, "No." But that's fine, they are still playing a role.

So what's happening is...and probably one of the things to dissolve more and more as we continue into the 4th Dimension is you are seeing more and more truth about money. Because money has always been artificial. It was created only for us to assist in experiencing separation. And, right now, going into the 4th and 5th Dimensions, we are not going to have that separation so money will be dissolving.

Now is that a good enough example for everybody to kind of understand that more? Because I'm not trying to be ambiguous. I understand that when you are trying to be ambiguous that it creates fear. But, once again, if it ignites fear, look at what is the thought or idea coming in for you. And we all go through this.

Anything you want to add to that, Franco? I think that the money issue is the one that's going through the biggest change right now; money and government.

Franco

Yes. And like you were saying, when people start looking at where does it come from and the control structures and so forth that may have created it and how it was projected and so forth...when you start looking at, "What has money been representing for me?" When you start looking at it, you say, "Wait a minute! Because of this money I have to go and do something I don't like. I have to spend my life from the moment that I'm born to start preparing myself to go and be ready to go out and learn and prepare myself to get a job so that I can earn money so that I can actually survive. And how many things I would have loved to do and I couldn't do because I didn't have adequate money! How many things I would have liked to enjoy and to experience which is not available because of the fact that we are still holding onto the money system! And all of a sudden we don't have access to clean food, clean energy."

And also looking at it and saying, "Look at all the different parts of the world, all the beautiful aspects of myself in the world where there are people starving. And for what reason? Money?"

And if you're still looking at that, then that's a pretty interesting thing because not only did we just make it up, at the same time it's governing how our medical system is, how our food distribution is, what is being made and not made, how much control the different organizations have over us, what we have access to and no access to...because we are not able to access technologies which eliminate a lot of the mundane work, the survival and struggle aspect of things and so forth. And we have all this all because of this little concept that we created called "money." And we start looking at it. And that's just one side of it.

And when you start looking at it and starting bringing in the religious component and you start looking at that and you realize that, "Wait a minute! It's a money organization which is dictating and telling you how live!" ...and mostly only for their own financial gain. Now I'm not saying that every single soul who works within the religious aspect are privy to knowing how this all works. But as you start to come into that consciousness of seeing all these truths come out, it's, "Wait a minute! They are into child trafficking, they are in bed with the largest banks...they are the largest bank...they are the largest property owners, they basically do all this stuff," and something that you have held as your foundation all of a sudden is being shaken.

The same thing with the medical system and so forth. When you start looking at it, it's like, "Well, for the want of money," well, it's more than just money, but because of the structure that's in place, "we don't have cures for a lot of the ailments and we're actually creating more of them," and so on. And it all revolves around money and the decisions that are made about it.

So when it does come about and you are looking at it with a 4th Dimensional consciousness, you can see that, "Wait a minute! This has all been a restriction!"

And not only is it not even real and it's been restricted, but when you can actually see it with clearer eyes, the reason that you can dissolve something like this is you can say, "Wait a minute! Why are we even playing this game any longer when the moment we step onto this planet our True Nature is full access to anything and everything that exists on the planet?! Fully, equally and in harmony! With everyone! Then we don't need to have this...at all! We already have access to everything. And why would we restrict one person over another?"

Or why can one person say that they are earning more than another? The whole idea around the concept that someone gets paid $400 an hour and someone else gets $8 an hour and who is of more value? That is an illusionary thing.

You are going to notice that time is time for everyone. It doesn't matter who is doing what. You're going to be able to see through the system and let it go.

So, in a sense, when you are in 4th Dimensional consciousness and going into 5th, you will be able to see things and just let them go and say, "We don't need this. And we don't need this. And we don't need this. And we are not going to attach ourselves."

So someone who has money in the bank or something of that nature may say, "I may," and just as a way of looking at it, "I may lose all of the millions of dollars I put in the bank but, by letting that go, I now have access to everything! Everything I need. And, not only that, but I have access to more than I need because now I don't have to be so concerned about hoarding it and holding onto it and who's going to take it and what's going to happen. Now I'm free and I can play with anything and everything along the way."

So it's going through that transitional point where you actually let go of one thing and then are able to do it. So that's just that aspect of it.

But then, you know, there's more of it. As more is uncovered, you are going to see more things coming along. So these are the things you will be able to see and clear without...and when I say "clear" it's about letting it go, letting the systems go, letting things transform.

So we might take the education system and look at it and say, "How much of what we learning is absolute truth? How much has been suppressed?" You are going to look at it and say, "No, we want the most current. And not only do we want the most current but we want to advance it so that it actually reflects the new world that we want to create. And we're not going to create the same drones. We are going to allow each child to have their own creativity. We're going to allow every adult to have their own creativity where we can actually play together. Where we can do a lot more than we ever did before.

And so it goes with all the other systems that are in place.

We are not going to want war. Who wants war!!! This thing that's projected has been our 3-D world where we are competing against one another, we are seeing who are the "enemies." I love when people say, "Well, they are the enemy." What the heck is an enemy? It's just another playmates of yours that's playing a specific role. To them, in their eyes, you are the enemy and vice versa. Well who made that up??? Who made up the whole idea of "enemies"? There are no enemies. We are all playmates, we are all playing together. But we're no longer need to play in the same way where we are extinguishing our physicalities or we're still playing that anger role.

So, in a sense, as we're stepping into this higher consciousness, we are going to realize that even though things are brewing in that way we're going to say, "We don't need to do this!!! Why are we even doing it???" Because when you go and really have a conversation with the other party that you see as your enemy, they want the exact same thing as you do: "We want peace. We want harmony. We want to have equal accessibility to have food, water, shelter and freedom." That's it. So why are we fighting wars about that?!!

And the same thing with the different gods or the different egotistic stories that we play with. But we've grown out of all of that.

So this is what happens. So as things are changing this is not necessary any longer. So we let it go. "We're not playing with this any longer. Period!" So if someone has a gun and is about to kill someone they will say, "What the heck am I doing this for?! I don't need to do this anymore. I can see that in the eyes of the soul that I'm looking at right now that I was considering killing and inasmuch as that was my role at one point in time, I can see the magic in there. I can see the beauty and I can see a reflection of me in there because that's me! That is another facet of me. That soul in there is a connection of my soul. It is my soul." So we see it completely differently in that respect.

So all of that will be challenged. All of it will come to the surface.

And as we go along it will come up more.

And at times it's going to be shocking if we're dependent on it, if we relied on it, if we defined ourselves by it.

Imagine going to school...you're coming out, you're graduating, you're getting a diploma that you've spent all these years going through the grade school, the high school, the universities and so forth and it's cost you hundreds of thousands of dollars to do it and now you have all these little pieces of paper that tell you that you've graduated. And all of a sudden you find that the job that you had prepared yourself for is not there any longer. And also that most of the information that you were taught was not even current or accurate or even correct. You will say, "Oh my God! Why did I invest all my time in there and go under all that stress?" It was an experience! Absolutely, it was an experience. You're going to see it that way. "Oh, great! It was an experience."

But at first, it may be a shock. Look at all the students who are graduating right now every single day that are coming out of schools and so forth and can't find jobs. I hear it all the time. They say, "I studied and I can't even barely find a job flipping hamburgers these days. And here I am, I have a degree in this and a degree in that," or whatever it is. But this is the reality that's coming up: to see that that's how the world is dissolving. And we're not going to have that in place. So it may be a shock at first but then it's, "Oh, OK. Great. I went for the journey. I experienced how it feels to be in that competition world of being in school and learning all this stuff and now I don't have it. Oh, well! So what! So let me go play with something else" That's it.

So that's just a little taste of some of the things that will be coming up that may be challenging, and the new view of looking at it and being able to move forward from it.

So there is stuff that will come up in that way because we've attached ourselves to it but, in actual fact, once we've gotten over the initial shock...and 'm not saying everybody will, but the majority may, at this point...that you'll see, "Great. We needed to go through this. It's done and therefore let's great something totally new."

Antonia

Yes. So hopefully that makes it a bit clearer.

Now we have another question from a listener who says that there's a big issue that nobody seems to be addressing but that has been weighing on her mind and heart. She doesn't go to church but she listens to some of the sermons on TV. And what she's hearing or not hearing is a lot of confusion. There's a lot of talk in the sermons that...well, let me read it exactly...

"God Source has granted us this miracle of Ascension during this lifetime, however, according to the Bible there is still the question of Armageddon. Obviously we can't do both. However, many preachers are still preaching and are warning their congregations that these are the End Times. They mention nothing about the Ascension at all. How are these people going to learn about the Ascension when their leaders are telling them to prepare for the Rapture and Doomsday. It doesn't seem right that they are being deceived even if it's through lack of knowledge and not through deception.

“After much soul-searching I’m wondering if maybe the word “Rapture” has been misinterpreted as a physical Ascension to Heaven, when the word was actually meant as a spiritual Ascension on Earth.

“I would be extremely grateful if you would explain this apparent conflict and if you know how this information will be shared with these churches and their congregations. It seems to me that until they know about the true Ascension, they can’t and won’t be able to help spread the Light and this will slow down the progress for all of the collective.”

Franco

Excellent. And a great observation there. Because, in actual fact, even when we talk about the Rapture, it is about the Ascension. Even though they may have presented it in a way that sounded more like The End with ones that make it and ones that don’t make it and all that stuff....with ones that ascend and ones that don’t make it and are sent off to someplace else...or whatever it is...I don’t recall the stuff that they talk about because I haven’t followed any of that stuff over the years.

Anyway, yes, that’s one of the things that’s playing out right now is that many are not aware and their leaders are still telling the same old story. But, the thing is, much, much more is collapsing around them so they are going to start to question it. Because there are those who are teaching in the churches and whatever else and they are still teaching the old stuff that they were taught because of the whole idea of, “We can’t question what’s been handed down and what our superiors have said.” But I can tell you that a lot of the people who are up on top realize what’s really going to happen. It’s the ones below that are not being updated with what’s really happening because the ones on top want to keep things under wraps as much as possible because they don’t want to lose the control yet.

But, again, that’s still serving because, in a sense, people are still going to hold onto that which create even that much more fear. Then, all of a sudden, they will realize that what they have been taught is not really playing out...that things change differently.

And this is one of the things that we were talking about earlier: people put lots of faith and lots of energy into what is being said, taught and covered within the religious affiliations and then, all of a sudden, the belief system’s interpretations that were attached to it before (i.e. Doomsday, Armageddon, Raptures, and all that stuff) really wasn’t how it was described. So all the faith that they put into it and everything that they put into it will be something that will really rock them and be a wake-up call for them. And they will feel that, “I now need to connect with something that is much more concrete...and that is themselves...their Soul...their Essence of their Higher Self. And they will see that everything is already within them.

So it’s really still creating the polarized aspect of it...until that part comes to the breaking point, in a sense, where it collapses.

For example, right now you can ask a lot of people who are following the Catholic religion or any religion (and many of them are all tied in) and they are not aware of what's happening behind the scenes, what's happened with the Pope, what's happened with what the church had represented and all the different roles that they played...which were actually opposite to what they projected! They are not aware of that.

But many others who are noticing it are aware of what's really going on. So when (like they say) "the shit hits the fan" (laughs) when they actually find out, it's going to be a big shock about what they had faith and trusted in.

Because, really, it's not a man that you trust...you should trust Who You Truly Are. Because a man (and I'm not talking about the Soul, I'm talking about the mind that's caught up in the ego and stories and so forth) is not what you put your foundation on because that's your experiential component while you're journeying on the planet and which utilizes a vehicle. It's saying, "The vehicle is me but the vehicle is what I trust." The vehicle is only taking you from A to B and the computer is only holding the information that you've programmed in there. But the true driver, the true navigator, the true Energy Source, Life Force, and the True Consciousness resides in the driver...and that is the Soul...the part of you that is the Higher aspect of you that is really here for what it's doing.

So, in a sense, yes, you could say, "Will there be people still left behind in all of this and still teaching on the fear-based aspect of it?" But that all serves because at some point they are going to realize, "Wait a minute! I don't need to play this any longer. There's much more to it than this." And there are many more people who are gravitating to it and many more people who are stepping outside of it. So it's actually a clearing house, in a sense (laughs).

It's like a haunted house where you can go in and experience something. "I have fears about darkness, I have fears about boogeymen (or whatever it is) so I'm going to go to one of these haunted houses at an amusement park or something, and I'm going to go in there and experience so I can actually get over my fear...or at least experience the intensity." So that's what a lot of the churches are playing out right now. And all the different religions are playing out our biggest fears and giving us the biggest amount of limitation for us to go through it, experience it, process it and then step outside of it and see it in a much more open way.

Look at how many people who have been involved in religion and have gotten caught up in the fears and so forth and felt the way they did. And then when they finally come out it's like the whole world looks totally different to them, their whole view... And then they could look at it and say, "Well, none of that was true! None of it even resonated." So everything changed in that respect. But they did go through it...they went through it...and it was still a very powerful learning experience to do so.

And that's what's happening. The last clearing part that people are going in...they are going in and experiencing that limitation...

Because look at the polarity that's happening now. Some are holding onto religion...still...and they are still going in and listening to all the stuff. It's very opposite to a lot of things that we are feeling inside. The energy...let's put it this way: the frequencies and energies are going one way and that's still holding onto something old. So there's a huge increase in polarity...to the point that it's like an elastic band...it's being pulled and pulled and pulled...and once it lets go it will launch out even further than ever before. So the polarities they are getting there are becoming more intense and it will be harder and harder for them to hold on to them as much more goes on. So when they finally release it's going to be like a huge breath: "Wow!!! I'm free!!! And not only am I free but I can actually feel myself and I can feel the Essence of Source within myself!"

So...the Ascension? Yes, an Ascension is what we're going to through but it's just an upgrade in our consciousness so that we can actually allow our frequency to increase further. The frequency increases on its own as we let go of the old 3-D, the old programs that keep the frequency down. So that's what the Ascension process is: we're going through a process of letting go of everything that's lowered our frequency, everything that we've created in the form of density and limitation, so that we can actually go back into a much freer and grander space than we've ever been in before. That's really what's taking place.

So the churches and the different religions are still playing a role. But it's really just creating much more polarity: they're holding on, holding on, holding on...the but energies are increasing, and increasing and increasing...and the polarities are getting larger and larger and larger...to the point where the people will finally step outside of it.

Now of course there are going to be some announcements that cannot be held back any longer where a lot of, you could say, deception...the truth will come out. It's like this...and I've said this before to others...and this is only a play with words because I'm not going to say one thing or another...but a lot of religions talk about the fact that we have to be afraid of the awareness, the awakening and so forth because that's Satanic, and that's evil, and that's the Devil and whatever other dark entity that they project as an illusionary aspect of it...and that we need to be careful and all that stuff because that stuff is just drawing us and luring us into that dark manipulation. So here is all this fear around that and that the awakening process is something horrible and that we're going to be judged and all that.

But, in actual fact, when they come to the awakening state, you will see that it's actually the opposite.

I once said to some religious people within my own family that, "The Devil that you are so scared of and that you keep talking about and projecting within your congregation and affiliation is actually who you are working for." But that's only just a play with words because, in actual fact, the darkness that they are referring to is actually the very thing that they are playing with. They can't see it...yet. But when the light comes on they can see it. And then they say, "Oh! The boogeyman that I was scared of or the story that I was scared of is actually the story that I've been playing with and projecting within the place that said that I had to be careful about in the first place!"

Antonia

Yes. And, as Franco said, there will be a lot more revelations coming out about such things as how much tampering has happened to the Bible. Most of it was written...first of all remember that whether it be the Jewish Torah or whatever religion, all the books were passed down orally for a very long time and then they were written down...and then re-written in order that the men in power at the time could control. So a lot of these things will be coming out.

Franco

Yes. And a lot of it was written 300 to 700 years after the fact...with any experience that occurred...especially the New Testament. The Old Testament is a lot of different... And a lot of the books from back thousands of years ago are all basically interpretations of the state of consciousness of humanity at the time. And what they experienced and how they interpreted it was key there. So even though some fundamental knowledge was put into it, a lot of it has been skewed and interpreted in certain ways. And, as you said, it has been re-written and always to serve a certain agenda, to create a certain outcome.

You have to understand...no matter what the agenda may have been at any point in time with respect to anything...including any of the control structures in place that we have in power at the moment...as much as there was an agenda, there was a plan, it only played out to give us a really polarized, isolated experience for us to advance from. And we agreed to it.

And we agreed to it not because we were unknowing and didn't know better, for example. Rather it was because, "Yes. Let's see how far we can push the envelope here. How far we can stretch ourselves from not knowing. How far we can stretch ourselves to being completely separated and isolated and just being one microbe in a mass of competition to exist and survive. That's all!

Antonia

Absolutely. OK, for one final question:

"What are the next steps for those of us who are already in the 5th Dimension, i.e. Pleiadians, Lightworkers, etc.?"

That's a great question. It's like we talked about in the past: be in the flow. Really focus on Love and being fully in the present. And also realize that, if you're talking about those who consider themselves Pleiadians and everything else, just always check in with your heart to make sure that any channelling that you're given or you're feeling or anything that you're doing still applies. What I mean by that is make sure that they are not coming from a previous 3rd Dimensional energy and that it really is coming from 4th and 5th and onwards.

Do you want to clarify that, Franco? I think you understand what I'm trying to say but it's kind of hard to put it into words.

What happens is that a lot of times the channellings are still coming from an older frequency.

Franco

Yes. A lot of times if it's an older frequency, it states that it's coming from a very specific channel of beings who are there to help us and so forth when, in actual fact, they are not. They are not coming from that. It's coming from an older.... It may have truth in it but then there's a level of skewness or a level of throwing us off along the way. And then we are tuning into the "oldies" channel.

Because things are changing all the time. So, for example, some people are tuning into Jesus, some people are tuning into the Pleiadians, the Sirians, the Arcturians, the Lemurians, or whatever...tuning into different things...but we can be picking up older information. We can also be picking up information that was on a different timeline. Because you can project something from a different timeline but it is not the most probable timeline that we are on anyway.

But the beauty of it is not that we are being manipulated and played with...you can look at it that way, but that's not really the truth. Yes, on the observer aspect of it you might say, "Well, I'm being deceived," or something like that. No. It's basically giving you the opportunity for you to use your own internal guidance, to use your own internal way of saying, "What resonates and doesn't resonate for me? Does this really bring peace, expansion, growth within myself or does it still trigger any fear?" Because if it triggers fear, then guess what: it's going to serve you so you can take care of the fear...or your own self-doubt of trusting your own knowing. So, in actual fact, in all serves.

So channelling still serves no matter what. But don't put value in what the channel says is going to happen.

Look at how many things that have been channelled and haven't taken place. There are so many things coming out all the time. But then you can see that if a channel is still projecting fear, still projecting doomsday and all this other stuff that's going on...remember there is no doomsday. There's possibly going to be some intense experiences of shifting and so forth and the souls who want to participate in that one way or another are going to participate. But it's not there to create fear and accentuate fear.

Because the moment we get into fear we are feeding the energy of that fear so that it actually intensifies even more and we are still playing in the 3-D world. Because fear is a very 3-D construct. In 4-D you don't have that level of fear. You may have a different level of observation, yes. But you don't have that level of fear. And when you get into 5th, the fear doesn't come into play at all. Observation is completely neutral at that point.

So in the channellings...yes, use your own discretion. You need to feel how it feels with you. At first you may take it in and look at it and say, "Well, OK, great." But as you go along you might say, "Hmmm. It doesn't match or it doesn't feel..." Don't take everything as you see it directly. You need to use your own inner experience.

And I know people tell me, "Well, I can't trust myself. Because I don't know...I have a lot of voices in my head: I have my ego rambling on all the time, and then I have another part of me that's saying this and sometimes I am hearing other things. So I can't trust myself. I don't know how to discern, really." You'll notice: it's in the quiet. When the mind is not active and you are quiet in yourself you can feel what's there. "Does this bring a level of peace and higher understanding and growth for me or is this something that's limiting me?" And then if there's something that's limiting me, "Why is it limiting me? Is it because of my old programs or is it something else?"

Antonia

Something that we've talked about in the past...and especially now that we're in the 4th Dimension...is that we are all equal. There are no beings coming to "save" us or who will do it for us, or who are going to help us. We are doing it. They are assisting and they are there for guidance. But just make sure that any beings that you are connecting with...it's not about them being on a higher level than we are. We are all reflections of each other. And we are all...all the galactics...we are all moving through this together. This Ascension is happening on multiple worlds, not just on planet Earth.

Franco

Yes. And the thing is, too, there are a lot of channellings about ships are going to come here and take us away or we are going to be brought into the Inner Earth while the planet goes through its major shifting, or the fact that there are beings coming in who are going to take care of all this stuff for us and "fix it" because we are not capable...all of that stuff were possibilities/probabilities at one point in time depending on how things were going to play out. But a lot of it is not there anymore because it's not of servitude.

What's been decided collectively is that we are going to evolve and go through the transformation with all aspects of ourselves. That means that all the Souls who are on the planet...together...and the ones who stay or don't stay that will play part and parcel...we are going to do it with all the connections to all the souls outside of it...but we're going to do it with the animal kingdom...we are going to do it with nature...we are going to do it with the oceanic and the insect world...together.

We're not being isolated, then everything re-vamped and then put back on a new planet, or Eden, or whatever it is.

There's even been some stuff that's been channelled that we are all basically being removed from here within the next couple of months and the planet is going to be reconstructed and we are going to be sent off to ten different other planets based on our frequency, and so forth.

There's a lot of different things being channelled. But that doesn't mean they are going to play out (laughs). So you need to go with your own inner guidance.

Because from what I've seen with all the council decisions that are made by all the collective souls together, the best thing is to evolve within your own playground. Because then everything evolves together. And that's when it's most powerful.

Antonia

Yes. Someone has just suggested that maybe the question might be,

"How do the new energies affect more awakened and aware people?"

Franco

Well, at that point, they will be of even a higher servitude for themselves and for others around them. So the new energies will allow them to have higher access to consciousness. So they are not going to be going through the same intense purging and clearing and all that stuff because they've already done that and they are already in a 4th Dimensional consciousness. It's going to feel more like at home.

You see, many people, especially the ones who have been advancing but their frequencies have been lagging behind, have been feeling less and less at home. And lots of times I've heard people say, "Well, I want to get out of here. I want to go home." Especially ones who are starseeds or even the ones who have just advanced a little bit more. So the new frequencies are going to make them feel more at home, they are going to feel more in alignment, and they are also going to be supported even more. In a sense, they'll feel, "Ahhh! I'm not holding the Light by myself. I'm actually feeling some Light or some vibrational frequency that supports me in my being here."

But then there are some Souls that are already advancing faster because of the new energies. And, again, they will feel out of place because they are already in 5th and the planet is still in 4th. So, in some sense, they may start to feel at home a little bit more and then, all of a sudden, they may feel they are not at home anymore because of the fact that they advanced again even further. So there's going to be a bit of catch-up for a few years for the ones who are moving faster.

At the same time, the ones who are actually in a higher vibration will assist other souls around them...by not only holding the Light but also sharing and facilitating others to awaken.

But, at the same time, you are going to have to use your own discernment on how you connect and feel because you don't want to get caught up with people who are not really ready to move forward and getting caught up in the idea that you have to "save" people.

Because there's nobody to "save." And when you are in that higher state of consciousness, you know that. It's about, "Do I feel it's conducive to facilitate at this time with this person or that person?" or whatever. And it's not a selection process. You can feel the energy, "What am I going to share? Is this going to facilitate or not or do they still need to stay in this 3-D world a little longer for them to go through? Or maybe they are not planning to do it anyway."

So the new frequencies will assist in that way.

Antonia

Great. I think we are ready to wrap up now so that we can get into the meditation. Is there anything you want to add before we do that, Franco?

Franco

Yes. The process that we're going to be doing is really connecting with the new frequencies that are coming in with this activation of 4th Dimensional consciousness.

What we're going to do is connect with it, we're going to utilize what we can for our personal self, then we're going to also facilitate all our brother/sister souls to create more activations within them. We are also integrate ourselves with the planet and our solar system too. So, in actual fact, we are creating a harmonized balance between all of it. And we are going to be working together to bring that in and to utilize it fully at all levels...so it's not just for ourselves.

At the same time, when we are doing this with this 4th Dimensional consciousness and emanating it throughout the planet, we are also facilitating all the people who are still in 3rd Dimensional consciousness that are upholding war, upholding the old systems and trying to keep things stifled to break down the energetic barriers that have been created so that they can actually now allow more of these 4th Dimensional consciousness frequencies to enter with them...so that it starts to shift the way they see things and do things, so that we do not continue to stimulate the 3-D world but rather we start to stimulate more of the 4-D so that changes will occur. And the changes will occur globally...if not in isolated areas.

So this is going to be about doing a very powerful, global 4th. So we are going to tune into the energy, we are going to tune into the frequencies and the codes coming in and then we are going to stream it through all of us, then stream it through the whole planet and bring all of us into alignment to pick up as much of it as possible and utilize it for this transformation.

So that's what it's here for. And that's what we're going to utilize this meditation for.

So that's what we're going to do to facilitate this change right now.

And thank you to all the souls who are participating now...and later on (listening to the recording). Even though this is being done today and it's for this date, this does not limit it to today. This is the activation point but the energies will still continue to stream for some time. So each and every time that we do it (listen to the recording)...because some people say, "Well, I couldn't be on the call/webcast because of the different time zone that I'm in." But just because they couldn't do it at this time doesn't mean that they missed out. You are still part and parcel of it and you're still facilitating.

Many of you, if you're sleeping, you're still facilitating. The ones who are not consciously involved, can be by repeating the meditation.

And it would be best to do it several times over the next while so that you just keep re-enforcing it. And every time you re-enforce it, it is not only for yourself but it is for everyone...for the Whole. This is being done together now. We're not doing any more meditations for self.

Anything that we do...even when we go back to the Clearing Fear meditation or something like that...each Clearing that you do you are opening up the galactic consciousness at the same time and giving an opportunity for each and every soul to embrace that new opening away from fear...or from anything, at this point.

Once upon a time we were doing stuff for ourselves. Now we're doing it for our self, but all aspects of our self...and that means for everyone...at the same time.
